

I am commenting on the impact that K-LOVE has had on my local community. The station provides a positive alternative to all other radio stations in my area. K-LOVE is the only station that plays the music I sing at church, and since implementation in my community, it has become the only station that I listen to. I currently listen to K-LOVE from 8am to 6pm Monday thru Friday and from 10am to 2pm on Saturdays and Sundays. The impact that the station has had in my community is to provide a place of comfort for people experiencing major grief and trauma in their lives. It is also a refuge from the provocative and titillating advertising and commentary that pervades other stations in my area. The service that K-LOVE provides is in the public interest because it offers a true option of choice from other stations. It is child-friendly radio, and children in my local area enjoy the positive and encouraging messages that are found only on K-LOVE. If K-LOVE were to be re-placed by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, we would lose the daily connection that K-LOVE provides to the broader Christian community. We would lose the stories of other Christians that help to inspire us to stay our course and not give up. We would also lose the concurrent broadband streaming radio that provides solace to our loved ones who are far from home. Just last week, five new people in my community started listening to K-LOVE, including a soldier preparing for deployment. The service K-LOVE provides is incomparable and unique and means a tremendous amount to our community.
